

Confederate Batteries
on Island No. 10
24 March 1862

Battery No. 1 (Redan Fort)
3 Naval Iron Carriages - 8" Columbiad Cannon
3 Barbette carriages - Smooth Bored 32pdrs
Battery No. 2
4 High Barbette Carriages - 3 Rifled 32pdrs
- 1 Smooth Bored 32pdr
Battery No. 3
3 High Barbette Carriages - Rifled 32pdrs
Battery No. 4
4 High Barbette Carriages - 3 Rifled 32pdrs
1 8" Columbiad
Battery No. 5
2 High Barbette Carriages - 1 Rifled 32pdr
1 8" Columbiad
5 Medium Barbette Carriages - 1 8" Columbiad
3 Smooth Bore 32pdrs

24 cannon in position on the mainland

Battery No. 1 (Belmont Battery)
6 Medium Height Carriages - 2 8" Columbiad
1 Rifled 32pdr
3 Smooth Bore 32pdrs
Battery No. 2
- 3 Smooth Bore 32pdrs
1 Rifled 24pdr
Battery No. 3
- 2 Rifled 24pdrs
1 8" Columbiad
2 Smooth Bore 32pdrs
Battery No. 4
2 Siege Carriages - 2 8" Howitzers
Battery No. 5
2 Siege Carriages - 2 8" Howitzers
Floating Battery New Orleans
9 Naval Iron Carriages - 1 Rifled 32pdr
8 8" Columbaids

In the Belmont Battery, the large rifled 32pdr burst at the third fire at the enemy. It was replaced by an 8" Columbaid on 21 March.

U.S. War Department, The War of the Succession, A Compilation of Official Records of the Union and Confederate Armies, Government Printing Office; Washington D.C. 1882