²⁸⁹ Mobilized on 2 September 1939 and served until 22 June 1940. When mobilized its equipment was used. It had no divisional anti-tank company. On 10 May 1940 manpower was 15% below authorized strength, not including those on leave. The divisional reconnaissance group had its equipment replaced with new equipment from the US on 18 May 1940. Otherwise its motorized equipment was insufficient, 50% of authorized strength. The division was short 600 horses and the 21st RMVE had no 25mm guns.

²⁹⁰ Replaced on 5/1/40 by the 21st Foreign Volunteer March Regiment.

²⁹¹ Assigned 5/1/40.

²⁹² The 13th Pioneer Co., 49th Infantry was reassigned to the 11th Infantry Regiment in late April 1940.

²⁹³ Arrived on 20 November 1939.

²⁹⁴ On 11/16/39 the battalion was dissolved and the companies became independent.

³⁷⁰ Mobilized on 26 August 1939 and served until 31 May 1940, when it became the 53rd Light Division. The unit stood down on 25 June 1940. When mobilized its reserve personnel were insufficiently trained. The material and number of transport were insufficient. It had only 37mm anti-tank gun per battalion. The artillery was worn. It had no divisional anti-tank company

On 10 May 1940 the equipment and uniform situation had been, mostly, resolved. There were no 25mm guns in the battalions and only one 47mm divisional anti-tank battery. The allocation of mines was insufficient.

Casualties were very heavy. When the armistice was signed on 6/25/40 the division had 54 officers, 102 NCOs, and 659 men remaining.

147th Fortress Infantry Regiment (10/21/39-5/21/40)

³⁸⁴ Mobilized on 3 October 1939 and served until 31 May 1940. On mobilization it was organized from older classes of reservists. Only 4% of the officers were active duty. The armament was incomplete, no 25mm guns in the infantry regiments, and no divisional anti-tank company. There was a shortage of topographical and observation equipment. Shortage of uniforms and provisions were incomplete.

On 10 May 1940, despite the efforts of the system, the training remained incomplete. The units had 80-85% of their authorized strength. There were insufficient anti-tank mines, there were no 25mm guns in the 147th Fortress Infantry Regiment and the 11th March Battalion (BM) and none in the organic elements of the division.

On 5/21/40 the division, greatly reduced, was withdrawn from the line. It was officially dissolved on 18 May 1940 and used in the formation of the 17th Infantry Division.

³⁸⁵ On 5/12/40 the 1/295th was reduced to 300 men through combat.

³⁸⁶ Arrived on 4 April 1940.

³⁸⁷ 3 groups of 75mm guns & 1 group of 155mm C: 4/45th Artillery Regiment.

³⁸⁸ Replaced with 47mm guns in April 1940.

³⁸⁹ On 11/16/39 the battalion was dissolved and the companies became independent.

³⁹⁰ Assigned on 4 April 1940.

⁴²¹ Mobilized on 2 September 1939 and served until 27 May 1940. On mobilization the division was short of cadres and troops. It had no anti-tank equipment, with shortages in rifles and revolvers. The 81mm mortars had no aiming equipment. The motorized equipment was in short supply and in bad shape.

By 10/May 1940 it had received an anti-tank battery and a divisional anti-tank company, but there was no anti-tank equipment in the infantry regiments. The rest of the deficiencies had not been rectified.

⁴²² 2/3/248th detached permanently.

⁴²³ Assigned on 8 April 1940.

⁴²⁴ Disbanded 10/30/39.

⁴²⁵ The mixed horse drawn regiment had 1-4th Groups of 75mm and 5th group had 155mm C Schneider. On 10/30/39 the 3/51st was reassigned to the 6th Artillery Regiment, 6th North African Infantry Division. A new 3/51st was reestablished with 6-75mm guns on 1/8/40. Regiment lost material of 2nd & 3rd Groups on 5/15/40. 5/51st reduced to two batteries and all equipment lost. 1/51st lost on 5/16/40.

⁴²⁶ Arrived in January 1940. Detached on 4/24/40.

⁴²⁷ Arrived on 4/20/40. Horse drawn.

⁴⁷² 70th Horse Drawn Munitions Section was detached on 4/2/40.

⁴⁷³ On 11/16/39 the battalion was dissolved and the companies became independent.

⁴⁷⁴ Mobilized on 3 September 1939 and served until 21 May 1940. When mobilized it was formed of older classes of reservists that were badly instructed and had insufficient cadres. Its weaponry was incomplete, having only 8 25mm guns, among other shortages. It had no divisional anti-tank company. It had a 33% shortage of transport material.

On 10 May 1940 it had a large number of men on leave of absence. The cadre problems had been improved, but the shortage of anti-tank equipment and transport had not been resolved.
